

Suffield Academy

TEACHER/HEAD GIRLS' SOCCER COACH

📍 Suffield, Connecticut

SCHOOL OVERVIEW:

Suffield Academy is fully dedicated to a mission of serving a diverse community with a commitment to scholarship and respect for individual differences and growth. The academic, athletic, and extracurricular experiences prepare students for a lifetime of learning, leadership, and active citizenship, and call on the faculty and staff to be innovative educators and mentors.

START DATE: August 15, 2024

Suffield Academy is a structured school, and it is the faculty who bring this structure to life. The responsibilities required here reflect the mission of a largely residential school community committed to every member's total growth. The teaching faculty at Suffield are deeply involved in all areas of school life - both the academic, athletic, and campus life programs.

SUMMARY:

- The Suffield Girls' Soccer program focuses on creating an environment that improves individual talents and having individuals play as a cohesive unit. We take sportsmanship, preparation, and competition very seriously. Team success is a result of effort, awareness, and execution.
- The Suffield soccer program plays the top teams in Western New England and has made the New England Tournament the past four seasons, making the semifinals in 2019 and 2023, and winning the championship in 2021. Many student athletes have continued their soccer careers by playing at the college level.
- For the teaching aspects of this position, we are seeking someone who can teach history (likely U.S. History, European History, or Latin American History), science (chemistry or biology), or lower level French.

THE FOLLOWING COMPONENTS ARE REQUIRED PARTS OF TEACHING POSITIONS:

- Classroom teaching - four sections totaling around 50 to 60 students.
- Providing formal assessments with grades and comments six times per year.
- Attending faculty meetings.
- Replying to communications from students, parents, or colleagues within 24 hours.

Teaching/coaching positions are ten-month, academic year appointments; housing is provided.

HOW TO APPLY:

Suffield Academy has partnered with Dovetailed on this search. Interested candidates should email a cover letter (addressed to Dean of Academics & Faculty, Sara Yeager), a resume, and a list of at least three professional references consolidated as a single PDF document to Zack Lehman at zack@dovetailedsourcing.com.
